NUMB. 2360

FRIDAY, JANUARY 14. 1743.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from France.

Stockholm, Jan. 1.

ESterday Col. Murcin, in the Service of her Imperial Majesty of Russia, departed from this City on his Return to Moscow, with an Answer to his Dispatches. It begins to be whisper'd here, that in case the Duke of Holstein Ut[illegible] elected, the Czarina will restore at least the greatest Part of the of Finland, if not the Whole; and it is farther said, n Prince would endeavour to ally himself to his Bri- Majesty by Marriage, which would be certainly greable to this Nation.

es, Dec. 25. Since the Arrival of the English n, it has been observed, that our Court have t proper to secure two Men of War, the St. Phi- d St. Charles in the Inner Port; which shews that they are much afraid of another Visit from odore Martin. In order to be the better able to him, they have begun to recruit their Regiment ines, and to erect a Battery of heavy Cannon even the Water's Edge. But all this will signify little, the Town may be easily bombarded, in spite of all ecautions that can be taken.

na, Jan. 2. All the World was surprized at first e French Garrison left behind in Prague was not Prisoners of War. This Surprize however was d in a very false Notion, which has long been cur- viz. That the Court had refused such a Capitula- o the two Marshals of France, out of an earnest De- making them Prisoners of War; whereas the con- is very certain. If M. Belliste had proposed simply Konigsegg, evacuating the Place, and retiring with orces, it had been readily granted; but his Proposi- went much farther: He offered to evacuate not only e, but Egra and all Bohemia, and to march directly his Army to the Rhine; but always upon condi- that this should be the Basis of a Cessation of Arms, consequence thereof, open a Way to a Treaty on n Terms by him proposed, of which the Court of na could not in Honour hear, and therefore his Of- were refused. It is certain that her Majesty will go rague, in order to be crown'd, the Beginning of ch, and that several Schemes have been laid before Council for repairing and restoring that City.

aris, Jan. 12. The Chevalier de Belleisle, who came y Post from Bohemia, has brought us but indifferent ws. He assures us, that at the time his Brother re- d to quit that City, the whole Garison did not fall t of 20,000 Men. He admits that there march'd but 13,800 Horse and Foot, and that they left be- d them 5,800 sick and sound, about 400 dying or rting the last Week. But he does not tell us what were in the greatest Pain about, viz. how many ar- d at Egra, The German Gazettes say not above 00; Private Letters from Bavaria speak of Ten: In rt, that Army is ruined, if we except the Officers, o it is said are to return immediately into France, and to have the Preference of all others in the new Le- ; which is the true Reason why the War-Office pt the Delivery of Commissions. There must be edily a new Augmentation, notwithstanding those ady made, since the Swiss Cantons have absolutely used to grant, either to this Crown or that of Spain, Troops demanded of them, upon any Terms; which t once a cruel and unexpected Disappointment.

Hague, Jan. 16. The Deputies sent to Dort are not return'd, as to the Reason of which we can only m Conjectures. In the first place, we fancy they ve not yet succeeded; and in the next, we conceive it retty certain that they are not altogether without Hopes, nce they would otherwise certainly have left the Place me time ago. A few Days since, Mr. Trevor presented the Ministers of the Republick, a List of the Troops ow in Flanders for the Service of the Queen of Hun- ary; according to which it appears, that they consist of Battalions and 70 Squadrons, exclusive of Hussars and dependant Companies. Their Train of Artillery is composed of 98 Pieces of Cannon. The same Minister ured their High Mightynesses, that the English, Hessian, nd Hanoverian Troops would inf llibly begin their March or the Moselle within the Compass of the current Month.

Extract from the Paris Alamain.

Paris, Jan. 13. 'The King went Yesterday to pay a 'Visit to Cardinal Fleury at Issy.

'The Day the Chevalier Belleisle took Leave of the 'King, in order to return into Bohemia, his Majesty 'was pleased to bestow upon him the Government of 'Givet, vacant by the Death of the Governor in Bohe- 'mia.

'M. Broglio is at Strauben in the Midst of the Troops, 'which are very conveniently canton'd round that 'Place; where, thro' his Care, they have Plenty of Pro- 'visions, and will be in a Condition to take the Field 'very early, contrary to the Expectation of the Enemy.'

'The Army of Marshal Belliste extends itself from Egra 'to Amberg, in the Neighbourhood of which City his 'Troops are to take Winter-Quarters. We are assured 'that the Lieutenant-Generals Saudricourt and Heronville 'will command in Egra after the Departure of M. Belle- 'isle, who has the King's Leave to pass the Winter at 'his Estate at Veron.

LONDON.

There are Letters from Ratisbon which inform us, that 10 or 12,000 Austrian Troops are lately arrived in the Upper Palatinate, and threaten to deprive the French of all Quarters there; so that at least Marshal Belleisle's Corps will be obliged to march instantly through Franconia.

Private Letters from Lisbon say, that an English Man of War was arrived there in a very distressed Condition, having on board a Person of great Distinction, supposed to be Don Theodore, King of Corsica, furnished with a large Sum of Money to counterwork a certain Court in that Island.

We have very positive Assurances from the Hague, that the Auxiliaries in Flanders have had their last Orders, and that they were to begin their March towards the Moselle as on Monday last.
